Alexandria Virginia Stamped J.P. Smith 1/2 Gallon Blue Cobalt Slip Decorated Crock with Makers Mark on bottom.
Pre-Civil War (Circa 1850-1855) Stamped J.P. Smith 1/2 Gallon Blue Cobalt Slip Decorated Crock with Makers Mark on bottom.
Supper Rare Estate Find!
BC Milburn was the potter that provided James P. Smith with stoneware bearing the name J.P. SMITH. Wares with this stamp are very rare. JP Smith took over the merchant business from his brother Hugh Charles Smith in 1850, but only ran the importing business until 1855 when he sold it to Oliver W. Turner and John T. Dowell.
The mark H. C. SMITH / ALEXA was used after Retrocession, until J.P. Smith took over the family's retail business in 1851. Just a few pots are known with the mark J.P. SMITH, used from 1851-1854. Stoneware with these marks, made by B.C. Milburn and his staff, is similar to ones with his Milburn's own mark. During its long history, Alexandria was a tobacco trading post, one of the ten busiest ports in America, a part of the District of Columbia, home to both the largest slave-trading firm in the country and a large free-black community, a Civil War supply center for Union troops, and a street-car suburb for Federal workers. Alexandria was also the hometown of George Washington, Robert E. Lee, Jim Morrison and Mama Cass.
